

North Fork Breast Health Coalition Breast Cancer Support Network

Women with breast cancer need support now more than ever. The COVID-19 pandemic has created unprecedented emotional challenges for women with breast cancer, including disruptions to screening and treatments, financial hardship and increased anxiety and isolation.

The support network, made possible by the generosity of the North Fork Breast Health Coalition, will be facilitated by the Cancer Services Program of Suffolk County, a program of Peconic Bay Medical Center.

All sessions will be offered virtually until further notice.
